Cuticura

Infantile Blood Purifiers and Skin

Beautifiers.

A GROWTH OF HAIR.

While using your CUTICURA for chapped hands it occurred to me to try it for dandruff, from which I suffered a great deal, and it not only speedily cured the dandruff, but restored the hair to a large bald spot previously entirely destitute of hair. It is now an inch in length.

SOKE HANDS.

Your CUTICURA REMEDIES are justly receiving great recognition. The miners and the Cuticura Soap splendid for cleansing the skin, and those who have for years suffered from sore hands can not say enough in praise of it and Cuticura.

C. F. SCHMIDT, Scottsdale, Cal.

CHAPPED HANDS.

I have been using the CUTICURA SOAP for Chapped Hands and find it gives better satisfaction and operates more quickly than anything I have ever tried. Its cleansing qualities and delicate perfume recommend it as a most desirable soap.

W. F. PARKER, Charlottesville, Ky.

DOING GOOD.

I was sick a long time and tried several doctors.

They could not do me any good, and then I tried Cuticura Remedies and they cured me. They are doing a great deal of good in this country.

H. S. SALLER, Corvallis, Ky.

WITH GOOD RESULTS.

I have used your CUTICURA REMEDIES with good results for Scrofula and Scalp Disease for a number of years.

RIVER AND HARBOR BILL.

Many Think the Appropriation Useless.

Special to the Sentinel.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.--"Oh, there will not be any ill effect of consequence in the failure to pass a River and Harbor bill," said a member of that House Committee today. "Sometimes I think it wouldn't make much difference if these improvements were stopped for all time, and let the State and municipal corporations continue them if they want to," he added.

"Where will the failure be felt most?"

"Along the Mississippi; and, so far as that is concerned, the members from that region acknowledge that no good results have as yet been effected. I can't see as that it will make much odds, either. The general effect will amount to something. These twelve millions of dollars help things along, you know, and it may be a pretty even way of dividing up the supplies, but so far as any specific detriment or benefit is concerned it won't amount to that," and he snapped his fingers sharply.

A very great deal of hard work has been spent on the River and Harbor bill, and it is thought the members regret more the expenditure and waste of that labor than the ultimate defeat of the measure they have incubated after a very long and serious sitting.

A Short Extra Session of the Senate Expected.

Special to the Sentinel.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.--"Do you think the extra session of the Senate will last long?"

was asked of a prominent Democratic Senator to day.

"Not longer than the week following inauguration," was the reply. "It is my belief," continued the Senator, "that the Cabinet will be confirmed on the 5th of March. There may not be another meeting of the Senate then until the Cabinet meets. Of course a batch of nominations will follow the first Cabinet meeting; then others will follow daily.

There will undoubtedly be a cessation within a week. Mr. Cleveland won't want to keep us here long."

That Vote Demoralizes Silver Opponents

Special to the Sentinel.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.--The flurry over the question of silver coinage in the House has been the only topic here for twenty-four hours. The Republicans affect to believe the rejection by the House of the clause in the Sundry Civil bill to authorize the President to stop coinage at any time for a period of one year is a defeat of the President elect before Congress and a good deal of comfort in it. The friends of the proposition do not look upon it in any light except that of defeat for a cessation of coinage. They say it is not a party matter, nor one in which Mr. Cleveland has figured. It is pretty safe to say that the coinage of the silver dollar will continue indefinitely.

Arthur's Last Appointment.

Special to the Sentinel.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.--"President Arthur has made his last appointment, unless a case of great necessity arises," said one of his Senatorial friends to-day.

"Why will he not fill ordinary vacancies?" was asked.

"Because," was the reply, "he says it would be unfair to the incoming President.

Mr. Arthur banks heavily upon Presidentciousness. He says Mr. Cleveland would not make appointments upon the eve of retirement, nor will he himself do so. I am told that there will be five hundred vacancies in Postoffices, and quite a large number of others elsewhere for Mr. Cleveland to fill as soon as he comes into office."

THE VICE PRESIDENT'S ARRIVAL.

The Train by Which Mr. Hendricks and

Party Traveled Was Over Two Hours

Late--He Was Loudly Cheered on His Arrival.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.--The Vice President arrived at Washington this afternoon on the special car "Maryland," of the B. and O. Railroad. The train to which the car was attached was the second section of the regular day express. It was two hours and fifteen minutes late. A large crowd assembled at the depot before the hour at which the train was due, and patiently awaited its coming, receiving constant assurances as the train passed until, when the train arrived, the assembly numbered several hundred persons. The throng filled the depot waiting room, and crowded about on the sidewalk in front of the depot, and the members of the Citizens' Reception Committee and Indiana

Democratic Association, with a few newspaper reporters, awaited the arrival of the train on the platform in the interior of the depot. All the Democratic members of Congress from Indiana, except Senator Voorhees, who was detained at the Senate, and Judge Holman, who could not leave the House, were present. The members of the Indiana Democratic Association were Representatives-elect Blynn, Ford and Howard, of Indiana, and Colonel Bannister, of that State, and Messrs. Niles and Morgan, of this city, as the representatives of the Indiana

Democratic Association and the Citizens'

Committee, respectively, went up the road as far as Harper's Ferry to meet Mr. Hendricks and escort him to the city. It had been arranged by the Indiana Association to meet Mr. Hendricks at the depot and give him a cordial reception, without speech-making or any formality, and the Inaugural Committee sent a Reception Committee to meet him and escort him to his hotel. Unfortunately, however, there was no concert of action between the two bodies, and when the train draw up to the depot and Mr. Hendricks alighted from it he was seized hold of by Messrs. Niles and Claggett, of the Citizens'

Committee, and hurried through the crowd on the platform toward his carriage, without being allowed to stop a moment even to shake hands with his Indiana friends. A few of the latter, however, pushed their way through the crowd and shook hands with the Vice President-elect. One enthusiastic individual almost knocked Mr. Hendricks down in his eagerness to be recognized and to take his hand. As soon as the Vice President-elect was recognized many of the speculators on the platform removed their hats and applauded him. As he was pushed on toward his carriage down the length of the platform and through the waiting room to the street, the applause grew, and when he reached the pavement, it broke into an enthusiastic cheering, to which Mr. Hendricks responded by raising his hat and bowing.

The committee escorted him to the carriage, but here the crowd stirred about the vehicle and prevented it from being driven off, while a score or more shook hands with Mr. Hendricks. As the driver finally whipped up his horses and drove off to the hotel, the crowd cheered enthusiastically. The Vice President-elect was accompanied by several gentlemen from Indiana and the ladies of his family.

Mr. Hendricks held an informal reception in his rooms at the hotel this evening, a large number of persons calling to pay their respects.

NATIONAL MATTERS.

Retaliatory Resolution--Assistant Chief

Signal Officer and the Secretary of War's Remarks Thereon.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.--The House Foreign Affairs Committee to-day authorized Mr.

Eaton, of Connecticut, to submit to the House a favorable report upon Mr. Lefevre's resolution calling for retaliatory action for Germany's restrictions upon American products. Mr. Eaton takes the ground occu-pled by Lefevre's resolution, that under our treaties with Germany that country has been favored above all others; that the discrimination against American products was in violation of the spirit
